Information and inquiries

Prospective students and their parents are welcome to visit the University and meet with our Student Recruitment Consultants and Academic staff. Information sessions about the MBA program are held several times a year. Please check our website or local newspapers for details.

Program overview

Our MBA program is equal to that offered at RMIT in Melbourne, Australia. Graduates receive the same RMIT Australia degree wherever they study. This one-year (full time) MBA Program is designed for recent graduates who have limited work experience and a bachelor degree in any discipline from a recognised tertiary institution.

The full-time MBA program is designed to build up the knowledge and skills and to develop your outlook and insight. This will help expand capacity your capacity for personal growth and accelerate your career in a fast-changing global environment. The RMIT MBA provides intensive delivery (4-day) for the first and last courses, Introduction to Business Management and Business Operations, giving you a comprehensive and holistic overview of their MBA program at the beginning and again at the conclusion. The intensive mode also gives the participants a teamwork experience under time pressure, simulating the real world environment.

If you are already in the working world, an MBA from RMIT Vietnam is ideal for further career development and advancement. Along with business knowledge, you will develop personal skills, confidence and self-awareness. You will not only learn about business but also how to become a more effective manager, operating in a global business environment.

Program Recognition

- › Top 15 MBA provider, Australia
- › Top 5 MBA provider, Melbourne
by Australian Financial Review, BOSS Magazine 2009

Key features of MBA (Full time)

- Learning through RMIT provides you with the opportunity to:
- › Prepare to accelerate a career in management
  - › Expose to international business thinking and practice
  - › Benefit from business mentoring support
  - › Combine technology and business acumen to solve work problems
  - › Benefit from one-year study time model
  - › Interact with lecturers and facilitators with academic and industry credentials
  - › Develop an ethos of corporate social responsibility
  - › Potential to study overseas at RMIT Melbourne

Teaching methods and assessment

We provide you a facilitated learning approach with business mentoring support, case studies and work-integrated courses that contextualise your learning. You will move through the program as a cohort, work in teams and benefit from the additional insights and understandings that come from interaction with classmates who have similar aspirations but come from a diverse range of disciplinary and personal backgrounds.

Classes are usually a combination of lectures and tutorials in three-hour blocks. Lecturers deliver a comprehensive review of the latest thinking and world's best practice, while tutorials provide opportunities for facilitated discussion as we explore the way issues unfold in the business environment. Factually based case studies, a key feature of successful quality MBA degrees worldwide, are central to our teaching method and add further realism to the learning experience.

Credit transfer

Applicants who have completed postgraduate business or management studies or have partially completed an MBA at another institution may be accepted with some credits being granted for the RMIT MBA qualifications.

Credit transfer from other postgraduate programs and recognition of other professional qualifications will be reviewed on a case by case basis. Applicants should note, however, that only relevant postgraduate business qualifications are normally considered for credit transfer.

These must be equivalent to RMIT University's MBA course content, structure and credit point values. All applicants should undertake the normal application process.

Program structure

The MBA Program consists of 12 courses (144 credit points). Students complete 11 core courses and one elective. Not all courses are offered in a particular semester and we may change or substitute courses from time to time.

- › Introduction to Business Management (intensive)
- › Accounting
- › Leadership and Management
- › Business and Economic Analysis
- › People and Organisations
- › Marketing for Managers
- › Corporate Governance and Regulation Strategy
- › Managerial Finance
- › Applied Industry Practice
- › Business Operations (Strategy and Application) (intensive)
- › Elective (Entrepreneurship and New Venture Creation, Management Decision Making, and other choice)

"Taking the MBA at RMIT helped me identify my strengths and weaknesses, and therefore improve my leadership skill. The courses provide the necessary knowledge through the case studies, and practice lessons, and so students gain the most useful information, techniques and skills to apply to their daily work as a manager."
