RMIT University

RMIT is a global university of technology and design, focused on creating solutions that transform the future for the benefit of people and their environments. We are global in attitude, action and presence; urban in orientation and creativity; and connected through active partnerships with professions, industries and organisations.

RMIT University enjoys an international reputation for excellence in professional and practical educational programs and high quality outcome-oriented research.

One of Australia’s original educational institutions founded in 1887, RMIT is now the nation’s largest tertiary institution. The University offers an extensive range of postgraduate, undergraduate and vocational programs.

RMIT has three Melbourne campuses – in the central business district and in Brunswick and Bundoora in the city’s northern suburbs – and campuses in Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City in Vietnam. With significant partnerships in Hong Kong, China, Malaysia and Singapore, RMIT has a strong educational presence in the Asia-Pacific region. The University’s total student population of 74,000 includes 30,000 international students (onshore and offshore).

RMIT is a leader in technology, design, global business, communication, global communities, health solutions and urban sustainable futures, and is ranked in the top 100 universities in the world for engineering and technology in the 2010 QS World University Rankings. www.rmit.edu.au

RMIT Vietnam

RMIT International University Vietnam (RMIT Vietnam) is a campus of RMIT University. RMIT Vietnam is creating an innovative research, teaching and learning culture. It is committed to providing internationally recognised high-quality education and professional training for its students, clients and members of the community.

As an internationally recognised Australian university based in Asia, RMIT Vietnam assists in the development of human resources in Vietnam and the region by providing opportunities for students from around the world to belong to an international educational community that supports them to achieve their potential in an increasingly globalised world.

Degrees are awarded by RMIT University in Australia, allowing Vietnamese students to receive an overseas education without having to leave home. RMIT Vietnam is also host to students from Australia and many other countries. All degree programs are recognised by the Vietnamese Ministry of Education and Training (MOET) and are subject to regulation by the Australian Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency. RMIT Vietnam is an English speaking university and all teaching is in English. www.rmit.edu.vn

Centre of Communication and Design

The Centre of Communication and Design at RMIT Vietnam is associated with the College of Design and Social Context of RMIT University Melbourne, delivering the College’s award programs and developing research in relevant fields. The Centre of Communication and Design is growing in size, developing research capability and extending collaboration with national and international industrial and research partners.

Programs currently taught on the Vietnam campus include the Bachelor of Design (Multimedia Systems), the Bachelor of Communication (Professional Communication), the Bachelor of Applied Science (Fashion & Textile Merchandising) and the Master of Project Management. It is envisaged that further undergraduate and postgraduate programs from the College will be introduced to RMIT Vietnam in the future. The Centre has a presence on both the Saigon South and Hanoi campuses.

The Department of Communication and, more specifically, the Bachelor of Communication (Professional Communication) focuses on public relations, advertising and broader communication issues such as communication research and evaluation. The degree has a strong practical focus and most of the staff members have considerable industry experience.

The Centre’s resources include state-of-the-art multi-media laboratories equipped with Mac workstations, studios designed for audio, video and animation production, as well as general purpose and specialised hardware and software.
